Every year the Bix Museum honors those who exemplify what it means to keep Bix's Legacy alive by bestowing them with the Bix Lives Award. By supporting the Bix Museum, you too ensure Bix Lives. Each new member, helps to keep our exhibit free and archives open to the public.

The museum graces the lower level of the River Music Experience building, 2nd and Main Streets, in downtown Davenport.

The Bix Beiderbecke Museum and World Archives is dedicated to collecting, preserving and displaying material related to the life and musical legacy of Bix Beiderbecke, an icon of the jazz age. Our goal is to educate the public, both here and abroad, about Bix and his colleagues, and their vital contributions to American music.

Memberships start at $25 for individuals and families. Members receive discounts in gift shop and at special events, recognition on donor pages, free Annual Reports mailed home, and a t-shirt and fridge magnet to show support.

Donors who join at $1,000 or above receive a lifetime membership and in addition to the normal benefits, receive their name added to our exhibit Donor Wall and receive personal invitations to special museum events.

After nearly a century, the music of legendary cornetist, pianist and composer Bix Beiderbecke still draws awestruck admiration from fans around the world. Treasured recordings keep alive his unique tone, melodic style, lyrical phrasing and heart-stopping improvisations.

The Bix Beiderbecke Museum built in Bix's hometown of Davenport, Iowa, is a must stop for jazz and history lovers. Visitors will learn of his brief but eventful life at the dawn of the 20th century, view rare films and listen to his incomparable music. The archives of the museum, held at the Davenport Public Library, is the largest collection of professional resources and artifacts relating to Bix Beiderbecke and his family.
